

BOOKS FOR SALE

BENDIGO'S LOST MINERS 1852-2001

Author John Kelly

381 pages A4

Detailing short biographies of over 850 miners killed while working in Bendigo mines; Includes date of death and circumstances, with examples of inquest papers, photographs, newspaper reports and cemetery headstones. Indexed,

$55

Plus postage; $13.40

TEARS OF GOLD

Author John Kelly

91 pages A4

Biographies and cause of death of many children, women and men who died as a result of mining activities, either by drowning in mine dams, falling down shafts, collapsing earth etc. Referenced with many inquest papers.

$20

Plus Postage $2

ORIGINS OF BENDIGO STREET NAMES

Author Rita Hull

61 pages A4

Many streets of Bendigo were named in honor of early prominent citizens, some at the whim of surveyors, and sometimes they show a mining connection. Some maps and photographs.

$12

Plus Postage: $2

ORIGINS OF BENDIGO STREET NAMES, BOOK 2

Author Rita Hull

34 pages A4

The origins of more street names in Bendigo, and why they were so named. Includes a copy of a large map (A3) of Bendigo dated 1871,

$12

Plus Postage; $2

WHO DISCOVERED BENDIGO GOLD ?

Author David Horsfall

68 pages A4

This book takes a new look at the 1890 Select Committee Report into the claims of Henry Frencham for the reward as the “Discover’ of the Bendigo Goldfield. This committee did not follow the rules for granting rewards which the previous Committees had set down, instead fell into the trap like so many present day people, of thinking the word ‘discover’ has the same meaning as the word ‘find’.

Has David Horsfall worked out the answer to an age old query?

$15
Plus Postage. $2

THE LADIES CLAIM TO FAME

Author Rita Hull

26 pages A4

The story of Margaret Kennedy and Julia Farrell, the two women locally honoured as being the first persons to gather gold along Bendigo Creek, who disputed Henry Frencham’s claim for a Government reward. Their story only came to light during the Victorian Government Select Committee Report.

$10
Plus postage. $2

BENDIGO’S BRIDGE STREET BURIAL GROUND

Authors, Rita Hull and John Kelly

53 pages A4

This burial ground in Bridge Street was only used for about four years after the discovery of gold, but it is estimated to contain approximately 600 bodies, all still lying under the car park. There was never any official record kept of interments but this book records the history of the site, well referenced from newspapers and government sources. It does not contain a list of people buried there.

$12
Plus postage, $2

RAVENSWOOD RUN 1839-2002

Author Rita Hull

64 pages A4

Ravenswood was one of the earliest squatter Runs established, covering a huge area of Northern Victoria, but has now been greatly diminished in size. Its’ importance is the fact that it originally encompassed Bendigo Creek where gold was discovered and a city grew. The original homestead is intact but has suffered many vicissitudes over the years. Biographies of the many people involved are included.

$15
Plus Postage. $2

SNIPPETS OF BENDIGO RAILWAY HISTORY

Authors John Kelly and Rita Hull

55 pages A4

This is the story of building the historic line from Ravenswood to Bendigo, referenced by the many contracts let and sub-let for the bridges, Big Hill tunnel and buildings. The admirable craftsmanship of the stone masons and the beautiful brickwork of the station buildings is still very evident. With photographs, maps and a list of early employees.

$15

Plus postage, $2

GAS IN BENDIGO

Author Ray Proudley

39 pages A4

Before the advent of a natural gas supply to Bendigo the city manufactured its own gas from coal. The old gas works are still fairly intact and are now part of the heritage of Victoria, being the only one in the State to survive. The author shows the changes in technology over the years from 1860 till 1973.

Full colour

$10

Plus postage. $2

BENDIGO'S BRAVEST

Author John Kelly

54 pages A4

Civilian Bravery awards 1875-1987 were issued by the Royal Humane Society, Victoria, to brave Bendigo citizens who have risked their own lives to save others. Numbered over 105, the medals came in gold, silver, or bronze, each with the recipients' name engraved around the edge. The rescues involved the mines, drowning and fire, with the youngest awardee being 8 years old.

$15

Plus postage, $2

COAL, GOLD AND EXPLOSIVES

Author John Kelly

51 pages A4

Joseph Thompson Arblaster gave up mining to build a factory at Eaglehawk to manufacture Safety Blasting Powder for use in the mines. Unfortunately the works blew up several times killing ten people in all. The main focus of the story is the eight working lads who lost their lives in a single accident and the affect on the community.

$12

Plus postage $2